

Scuba Review

If you have not dived for a while and need to brush up your skills in a comfortable and safe environment or if you have done the open water referral and want to refresh your skills before doing your open water dives then you can do the PADI Scuba Review.

This is also a perfect way for people who have done their referral and want to refresh their skills before either completion in UK waters or overseas. All Scuba reviews are run by our very qualified PADI Divemasters & Instructors with one on one session's available.

To enroll in a Scuba Review you must have proof of diver certification or be enrolled in a scuba training program. These are run Monday to Thursday each week.

The course is structured in two parts:

You receive the Scuba Tune-Up manual which you study at your leisure. You then spend one evening at our purpose built dive centre in London where we go over some aspects of dive theory before refreshing your diving skills in our on-site heated pool.

The cost for the course is £69 which includes manual, tuition, all equipment and completion decal. If you would prefer the materials on CD-ROM then the cost is £89.

We run regular Scuba Review daytime & evenings so just contact us to book a date.
